“ So very sorry for the death of your dear Husband, Father and Brother. You have many wonderful memories to cherish and to help you cope with his absence. May you find comfort in the promise of Jesus at John 5:28, 29.

“ One of my earliest memories of Daniel is from when I was about 4 yrs old. The ice cream man came down the street and I wanted some. Only problem was that I had no money. My 4 yr old mind couldn't comprehend why the ice cream man wouldn't give me any. As I stood there "arguing" with him, Daniel pulled up on his bicycle. He dug in his pocket, handed some change to the ice cream man, and I got my ice cream! My big brother came to my rescue! It wasn't the last time he did, either.

Daniel was smart & logical and he made us laugh with his caustic sense of humor and observations about life. Thank you, big brother, for what you have taught me. Your baby sister is going to miss you.
