“ I loved you even when we didn't talk. I loved you with every ounce in my heart. So many nights I cried because I missed you, I wanted to talk to you. I was broken. Now I'll forever be broken, forever miss you, and nothing will be able to fix that. I needed my daddy, so many times. I needed your hugs, your laughter, your silliness. I needed you dad, I'd give anything to trade places with you...or just have you there. One more day. I just needed at least one day... The void in my heart with never be filled. No one will ever compare to you, god I miss you so much. I need you dad. I love you more than life. Remember that time we made a homemade horror movie?! You were so creepy but it was hilarious. And you'd sneak outside and bang on the Windows when I least expect it, you got me good! Or when you would play dress up with me lmao, you would put on my wig and fairy wings hahaha. Or monster in the park! Oh my gosh. You were just so much fun and full of life. You left me too soon, and you never taught me how to live without you. I love you dad... I'll see you later

“ I loved you everyday we didn't talk, I loved you when I was mad. I always wanted to be a part of your life, through the good and the bad. I loved you then, I love you now... Just wish I could have told you that, I wish wish we could have talked. I needed my dad in my life. Now I'll never get to hug you, hear you laugh again... I'll never hear your voice or doing with you. Your voice plays on repeat in my head. I can hear it as if you're sitting next to me. I miss you more than anything in this world and I'd do anything to have one more day with you...

“ So many memories, where do I begin? Our first date at heritage park, sitting in the car talking for 5 hours because it was pouring and we wanted to know everything about one another. Or when you played Easter bunny and came over to our new house and hid eggs so the kids could do an Easter egg hunt. The day you asked me to be your wife, to make you the happiest man alive and grow old together. June 18, 2009, the day you made me Mrs. Gile, your wife for life, to have and to hold, for good times and bad, in sickness and in health until death and beyond.

The deployment that kept us apart for 3 years instead of 1 but we got through it. The flowers you sent me because I had a bad day at work and the gifts from across the world. Saving all the 365+ letters I sent you, 1 for each day you were gone. The trips home and to Kentucky to see each other and make the best of it. Finally coming home after being gone for so long and finding out that our love had grown so much , not less as we feared. Getting our matching tattoos because it meant so much to us.

Driving around singing at the top of our lungs was our favorite thing to do. Or just snuggling while watching a movie. Hearing you and our sons laughing so hard when you had boys nights, while eating snacks and playing video games. Your competitive ways and never letting anyone have a chance at winning. Taking care of you while you fought me all the way because you wanted to do it yourself. Silly disagreements that would end up cracking us up when we realized that it really was silly.

God there are so many memories, I could fill a book but they remain in my heart baby boy. We didn't just say our vows on our wedding day, we lived them. Through it all, you are my soul mate, my best friend, hero and love of my life. You were a dad to my boys when you didn't have to be and we created a beautiful blended family. OUR children, growing up so fast but turning into amazing individuals.

Though our life together was cut short, we made memories that last a lifetime. Nothing can take away from that, and there is nothing I would change. So see you later handsome husband of mine... sweet dreams, sleep tight and don't let the bed bugs biiiiiteeeeeee... I love you forever and always, more than yesterday but less than tomorrow... XOXOXO

“ My handsome hubby, I never thought this day would ever happen, at least not for another 50 years. And I know you wanted the same with me and our family. I know life has been hard for you but you were a fighter and together we could move mountains. But God had other plans for us and he didn't want to see you suffer anymore.

We did make the best of the time we had together. You are the love of my life, and no one could ever replace you. My heart is yours forever and we will be together again in the future, this I know with all my heart. You had me at hello, the first time you flashed those beautiful baby blue eyes at me and smiled at me.

The day we got married was the best day in the world because I knew that I had met the man of my dreams and now, I'll be seeing you in my dreams. Rest easy my love, no one will EVER take your place because no man in this world could ever measure up to you. You made me laugh with your playful way and you complete me in every way. I know that we had a happy 7 1/2 years together and for that I am grateful.

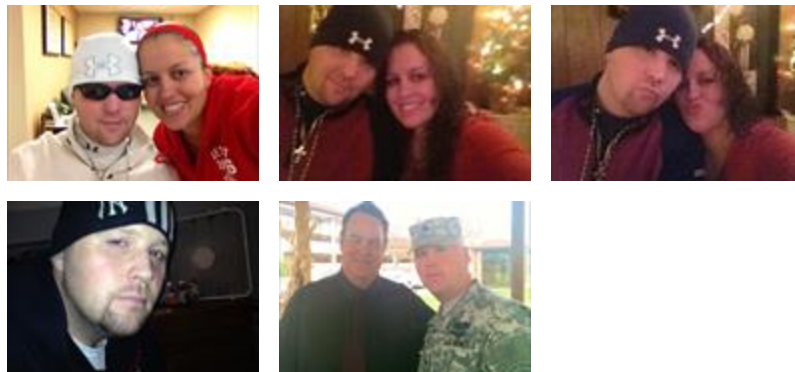

You are giving me the strength to get through this tough time by holding me close and thank you for that. You always had my 6 just like I had yours. I hope that you are happy with the choices I made for you and that I still make you proud. I would give the world to switch places with you, but God has his reasons.

I love you so much more than yesterday but less than tomorrow because my love for you continues to grow. No goodbyes baby, just see you later like we always said. I love you forever and always, always and forever. Beijos gostoso xoxoxo...
